

LITIGATION SERVICES

Our team of nationally recognized attorneys includes litigators with experience in appellate practice, antitrust litigation, data breach litigation, contract disputes, complex litigation, employment law, False Claims Act defense, Medicare and Medicaid appeals, Peer Review litigation and more. We have fought—and won—in many state and federal courts, and due to our expertise and dedication, we have been asked to step into active litigation in order to help change the tide.

Hall Render’s Litigation team advises health care clients through pre-litigation considerations and represents them when a dispute takes a more formal turn into litigation. Early engagement helps reduce future costs because it may prevent litigation altogether; however, when litigation is necessary, our team brings the experience and strength to win.

THE HALL RENDER ADVANTAGE

Hall Render’s Litigation team knows our clients’ business – health care. Our litigators are vigorous advocates and strategic problem solvers with an unparalleled focus in health care. From local administrative hearings to the United States Supreme Court, Hall Render has experienced health care litigators in almost every state and federal court across the country.

OUR APPROACH

We partner with clients to fully understand their past experiences, present concerns and future goals in order to help navigate the pitfalls that often lead to litigation. This positions our team to fully protect client interests throughout the entirety of business operations, from contract negotiation to complex litigation. Our team is eager to lend their expertise in client transactions, from routine contracts to mergers and acquisitions, and we use our experience negotiating contracts to ensure provisions that minimize potential litigation in the future.

OUR SERVICES

Linear Crisis Management: A crisis can threaten the entire health care business from a financial, operation and reputation standpoint. When a problem arises, our team of attorneys is ready to join our client’s team to provide valuable and strategic insight into emerging or ongoing pre-litigation disputes. The Litigation team prepares clients for the best posture in litigation with the goal of achieving the best outcome, which enables them to effectively navigate a crisis while minimizing disruptions to daily operations.

Legal Counsel (Lawsuit/Mediation/Arbitration): After being sued, a client must act quickly to protect themselves while maintaining daily business operations and managing expectations. Hall Render Litigators merge a deep understanding of the industry with courtroom experience to tirelessly fight for our client’s interests.

RESULTS

Clients that Hall Render has assisted with litigation services have seen major lawsuits against them dismissed or settled at the earliest possible stage, often avoiding costly discovery and negative publicity. Clients of Hall Render represented as plaintiff benefit from the credibility of one of the nation’s preeminent health care-focused law firms having seen significant settlements and verdicts.
